

Newsletter

Individual Highlights:

Message from chair	2
Country update	3

Message from Chair

Hi all,
I trust that the new semester finds you well and you are looking forward to the spring and summer. As promised at the Annual NACADA Conference in Chicago, this newsletter is the first step to improving communication across the country. My plan is to have a quarterly newsletter as well as more frequent use of the listserv.

I would like to thank Natasha Buis for her hard work over the years and I look forward to building on what she has accomplished.

My vision for this newsletter is for it to be a summary of advising activity throughout the country as well as a forum for an exchange of ideas for those of us advising in Canadian institutions.

If you have questions, feedback or just want to talk advising, please feel free to contact me at Darren_Francis@sfu.ca.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Darren

Country Update

Ontario has just recently sent out their first Ontario provincial newsletter and are in the planning stages of their provincial conference. Special acknowledgement goes to Jo Stewart of Brock University for her dedication and work within the province of Ontario.

British Columbia's Advising Association is in the process of redesigning their website as well as planning their annual conference. The conference date is expected to be set in February.

PLEASE SEND YOUR UPDATES

I would like to hear what your province is up to. Please send me any information you would like to share with the country.